It seems like it was only yesterday that the 1st episode got uploaded, but to write a review of Season 1 already...

Anyways

Hmm...
For starters, in regards to H-Campus,
I aimed to express the story of Kim Jae-hyun, who has no dreams, no vision, and
no knowledge about love.

And I aimed to express the type of clumsy love,
dream, passion, and recklessness only 20 year olds would experience...

If I were to introduce the 3 main characters of Season 1 a bit more thoroughly here

I think that a boy becomes a man if he has just as many experiences.

Because love and the course of finding his dream is a first to Jae-hyun, he has no choice but to be clumsy at everything. So I thought he'll end up looking reckless and pathetic.
And I found something that feels closest to that. And that is:

Private first class.

Please watch the course of Jae-hyun becoming a Sergeant~ ^^

Personally, he's the character I feel the most affection towards.

Next is Na Hong-hong

Hong-hong was the most comfortable character to express in the entirety of H-Campus.

She had a clear goal and she had her focus only on love so I think expressing her went smoothly with little straying.

Hong-hong's sometimes bold-ish, shy-ish emotion expressions were shown well in the art, so every time I saw it, I was in awe...

And lastly, Cha Eun-jin.

Eun-jin in contrast was the most difficult character to express.

In the past, there was a time when I worked in a hotel. While serving I had a chance to talk with some bigwigs<?> during a breakfast banquet.

At that moment, a chairman<?> looked at me and...

I still don't know why he said that to me...

But anyways, you could say that Eun-jin started from there.

Eun-jin is a bit complex as a character. She has jealousy at the same time as pride. She is inconsiderate but puts effort for herself... I guess...

If you see her in a one sided way, then she is a character you can only hate. But the more I think about her, the more attractive she is as a character.

So to wrap it up, if Season 1 is like seeing the characters be like P.F.Cs in the military, Season 2 will be like seeing them jump to Sergeants.

<In one statement, they'll become sly>

The clearer their dreams are and the stronger their love is, the bigger the conflict and troubles will be. Won't it?

Please watch over the exploits of characters that haven't been fleshed out yet.

And by nicely expressing and solving everything that I've been agonizing over,

I hope Season 2 will be more fun
and entertaining for not only me,
but for the readers as well.

Well then...
I wish to give my thanks and love for everybody who read Season 1.

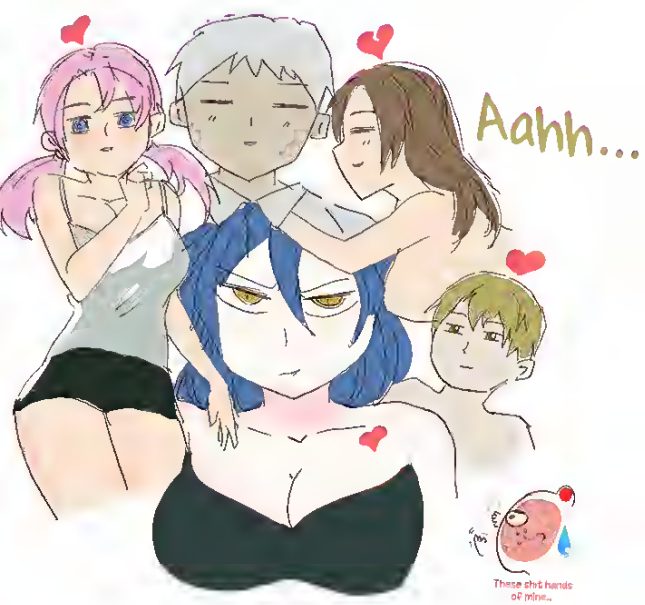
See you soon in Season 2.



Hello, I'm the artist, Ttasoom!
This is my first time greeting you like this.
Thank you to the readers who have been reading H-Campus.I also thank the writer, Putaro, and the other staff members who gave a lot of help!

Since I'm the artist, I'll end this with a few doodles I've done... Personally, I had the most enjoyment from drawing Hong-li.

Twin-tailed pink heads are the best.

I tried to draw an illustration for the year of the chicken, but I failed because I was being pressed by the deadline... T_T It's late, but I hope you all have nothing but good things happen to you this year!

Sometimes I go loony and draw gender-bent versions of the main characters. Sorry author Putaro...

Please anticipate for Season 2 which will start with a new art style!

Then it's celebration time for people we are thankful for~ ^^*

♡ WHN's lovable Jae-hyun and Hong-hong ♡

♡ The Dog's out of this world handsome Hyung-mu ♡

♡ JUY's glamorous Hong-hong ♡

♡ Celebration of our fan, Lee,♡ who is concerned over Dong-soo's friendship

Anyways,
What is with the friendship of Dong-soo, who stole his friend's panties and kissed...?
As well as being unable to forget his friend's kiss...
That is also nice...

♡ Puron's fresh Hong-hong ♡

♡ San's cute Hong-hong ♡

♡ Thank you ♡